Call for Proposals for ICMR Centre for Advanced Research in Medical Devices and Diagnostics

• ICMR invites proposals from top 25 NIRF-ranked institutions to establish Centres for Advanced Research (CAR) for developing priority medical devices and diagnostic technologies.
• Applicants must be regular faculty members.
• Maximum funding is 15 Crore per centre for 5 years.
• Proposals must be submitted via the ICMR e-PMS portal by 13th November 2026, 17:00 hrs.

Special Call for Proposals for Establishment of ICMR Centre for Advanced Research (CAR) for the Development of Priority Medical Devices and Diagnostic Technologies

INDIAN COUNCIL OF MEDICAL RESEARCH (ICMR), Medical Device and Diagnostic Mission Secretariat (MDMS), Division of Development Research, New Delhi

1. Background

The Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR), the apex body in India for the formulation, coordination and promotion of biomedical research, established in 1911, is one of the oldest medical research bodies in the world. ICMR has been actively fostering biomedical innovation through translational research, technology development, validation, and strategic partnerships aimed at addressing national healthcare priorities.

ICMR has launched several initiatives to expedite national advancements in medical technology translation—which have successfully driven numerous technologies from conceptualization to securing formal Test Licenses, regulation compliant clinical evaluation leading to Manufacturing Licenses. Building upon these advancements, ICMR is launching a mission-mode initiative for the establishment of Centres for Advanced Research under its Extramural Research Programme. These CARs will focus on the development of priority medical devices and diagnostic technologies addressing unmet clinical needs identified by ICMR through extensive stakeholder consultations. The initiative seeks to promote the development of affordable, accessible, and indigenous healthcare technologies of national public health relevance for wider public benefit and long-term self-reliance in the MedTech sector. The priority medical devices and diagnostic technologies have been identified through a rigorous exercise involving eminent clinicians in different clinical settings across the country including clinicians from tier-1, tier-2 & tier-3 cities, resulting in a curated list of ~100 priority unmet clinical need based medical devices/diagnostic technologies. The priority list of technologies is placed at Annexure-I.

2. Vision

To establish a robust national network of Centres for Advanced Research among the selected applicants from the top 25 premier institutions as designated by the National Institutional Ranking Framework (NIRF) 2025, for the rapid development of regulatory-compliant indigenous medical device and diagnostic technologies of national importance, addressing unmet clinical needs and strengthening India's MedTech ecosystem.

3. Objective

To select and support investigator-initiated Centres for Advanced Research proposals from top 25 NIRF ranked institutions for accelerated development of multiple high-quality, regulatory-compliant medical devices and diagnostic technologies addressing unmet clinical needs, from the published ICMR-curated list of ~100 priority technologies.

4. Scope

Applicants must select and propose the development of at least 8 to 10 technologies (a mixed bag of low-risk and high-risk technologies) from the ICMR ~100 Priority Technologies List (Annexure I).

Advances in Remote Sensing Imagery Data Processing and Analysis
(January 13-17, 2025)

Overview

Remote sensing is defined as the act of collecting data about an object or phenomenon from a distance. Human beings, just like other animals, can do this using for example their eyes. It is however with the development of modern technology, and especially the powering of spaceborne sensors, that hand remotely sensed data started flooding the world, and spaceborne Earth observation became a viable tool to keep anthropic and natural environments constantly monitored. Geographers and environmental scientists use remote sensing to measure and characterise phenomena that take place in the Earth's lithosphere, biosphere, hydrosphere, and atmosphere. Most sensing devices record information about an object on the Earth's crust by measuring its reflection of electromagnetic energy at different wavelengths. Remote sensing has many applications in mapping land use and cover, agriculture, soil mapping, forestry, city planning, archaeological investigations, military observation, and geomorphological surveying, among other uses. All these applications have gained significant traction with the ever-growing availability and maturity of data processing approaches based on Artificial Intelligence (AI).

During this course, we will discuss high-resolution remote sensing imagery data processing and analysis, tapping into recent advances in Deep Learning and AI based approaches. Due to its rapid property of transfer learning, it allows us to propose a novel computational framework to address the challenges in high-resolution remote sensing data analysis. Various types of applications will also be addressed, with special regard to Agricultural Remote Sensing (ARS). During further, this course will highlight fruitful use cases of remote sensing imagery data processing in various areas of engineering. It will contain special sessions for those participants who may not have a strong background in the field. Finally, besides the confidence output, we aim to provide an intensive understanding of how to use the algorithms and to ensure the participants with software tools for solving practical problems in the different applications. Lectures will be supported by discussion sessions based on the different problems associated with Remote Sensing Imagery Data Analysis.

In this program, efforts will be made to introduce various tools used for remote sensing image analysis and machine learning such as Data visualization, radiometric and geometric corrections, Transformation and feature extraction, Spectral and spatial analysis of Remote sensing data, Indexes and information extraction DL based classification, Radar interferometry, Radar polarimetry application of ML in Earth observation, application of remote sensing in Agriculture, multisensory data fusion, etc. Furthermore, this program will also have sufficient practical sessions to support the lectures. It is expected that participants will attain sufficient knowledge in this area after attending this program.

Objectives

The main objective of this course is to explain the fundamentals of remote sensing imagery data processing and analysis and build confidence and capability amongst the participants in the application of remotely sensed image processing and analysis, including through deep learning and AI approaches. Another aim is to provide exposure to practical problems and their solutions, through case studies, to enhance the capability to identify new applications of remote sensing data processing and analysis and translate the results into the real world, especially in the agriculture field.

Module-III Training Programme for Assistants (Batch-1) concludes at ICAR-IARI, New Delhi

The Module-III Training Programme for Assistants under Reform Utsav, first batch, was organised at ICAR-Indian Agricultural Research Institute (IARI), New Delhi, from 05 to 16 October 2026. The programme aimed to enhance the administrative knowledge, professional competence and functional efficiency of Assistants working in ICAR institutions.

The training programme was designed for 50 participants from various institutions of the ICAR system, including 16 from ICAR-IARI, 3 from ICAR-IASRI, 1 from ICAR-NBPGR, 1 from ICAR-NIAPPR, 2 from ICAR-NIPB, 1 from ICAR-NRCPM and 24 from ICAR Headquarters. This diverse representation provided an opportunity for participants to exchange institutional experiences and develop a broader understanding of administrative functioning across the ICAR system.

A total of 20 resource persons, predominantly drawn from ICAR Headquarters and Delhi-based ICAR institutes, delivered lectures and shared their expertise on various aspects of administrative functioning, rules, procedures and institutional management. This arrangement facilitated interaction with experienced senior officers while minimising expenditure on travel and related logistics. It was also aligned with the Council's emphasis on economy measures and expenditure rationalisation, without compromising the quality of training.

A major highlight of the programme was the special lecture on "AI for Smarter Administration" delivered by Shri Gyanendra Das Tripathi, IAS, Joint Secretary (Admn.), DARE & Secretary, ICAR. The lecture highlighted the potential of artificial intelligence in improving administrative efficiency and promoting technology-driven governance. Dr. Ch. Srinivasa Rao, Director, ICAR-IARI, New Delhi, also delivered a lecture on "Creating a Positive Environment in the Organisation," emphasising the importance of teamwork, mutual respect, effective communication and a constructive workplace culture.

As part of the practical exposure component, a field visit to the Institute's research facilities, namely the Nanaji Deshmukh Plant Phenomics Centre, Centre for Protected Cultivation Technology (CPCT), and Integrated Farming System (IFS), was organised on 08 October 2026. The visit familiarised participants with the Institute's research infrastructure, agricultural technologies and innovative approaches to farming systems.

On the concluding day, a group presentation activity was organised to encourage collaborative learning, knowledge sharing and the practical application of concepts covered during the training. The activity provided participants with an opportunity to work in teams, articulate their understanding and share their learning with fellow participants.

The valedictory session was held on 16 October 2026, with Dr. Shanti Kumar Sharma, ADG (HRM), ICAR, as the Chief Guest and Dr Ch Srinivasa Rao, Director, ICAR-IARI, New Delhi as Chairperson. The session marked the successful conclusion of the training programme and provided an opportunity to reflect on the knowledge and experience gained during the programme.

Enforcement Directorate Press Release on Odisha Sub Inspector Recruitment Exam 2024 Paper Leak Investigation

Press Release
14.10.2026

Directorate of Enforcement (ED), Bhubaneswar Zonal Office has conducted search operation at 12 premises located at Odisha and West Bengal on 08.10.2026, 10.10.2026 and 12.10.2026, in connection with leakage of question paper of Sub Inspector Recruitment Exam-2024 in Odisha. During the searches, premises of M/s Silicon Techlab Privates Limited, M/s Panchsoft Technologies Private Limited, M/s PSIL International Limited and their directors along with other associate persons were covered and various incriminating documents/ devices/records were found and seized, as per the provisions of PMLA, 2002, which are under further examination.

The case emanates from FIR filed by Odisha Police in October 2025 when Odisha police, on 30.09.2025, intercepted three buses carrying 114 candidates of SI recruitment Exam-2024 near the bordering area of Ichhapuram (Border town of Andhra Pradesh and Odisha) for leaking the question paper of SI recruitment exam scheduled to be conducted on 5th and 6th October 2025 in lieu of cash ranging between Rs.15 to Rs.30 Lakhs per candidate. The case was subsequently transferred to CBI. The question paper was allegedly leaked by the persons associated with the entities to whom the work of conducting exam was assigned. Candidates were approached by their associates and they were lured for providing the question paper in lieu of money and their original certificates were taken as a guarantee. As per the charge-sheet filed by CBI, various irregularities also took place with respect to the question paper during March 2025 when the same exam was scheduled earlier which was later on cancelled by Odisha Police Recruitment Board (OPRB).

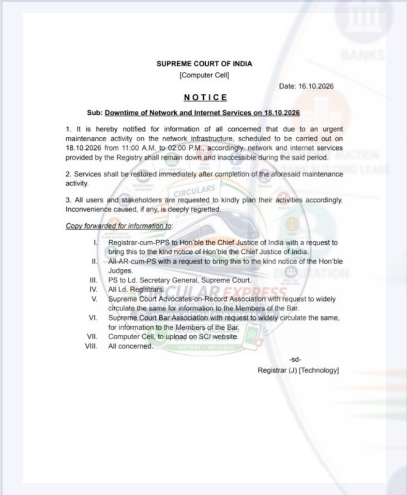

During the search, it was ascertained that the OPRB assigned the work of conducting the exam to ITI Limited which is Central Government PSU. In turn, ITI Limited handed over the work to M/s Silicon Techlab Private Limited (STPL) based in Bhubaneswar. However, M/s STPL through its director, Suresh Chandra Nayak, without the written permission of ITI Limited, engaged third party M/S Panchsoft Technology Private Limited for handling sensitive information of the candidates in connivance with its director Sankar Prusty. Subsequently, the persons linked with Silicon Techlab and Sankar Prusty approached the candidates and lured them with the promise of providing the confidential information of exam paper in lieu of money and mobilized them. The investigation has uncovered a set of transactions between accused Sankar Prusty (Director of Panchsoft Technologies Pvt Ltd) and STPL even before the commencement of the SI Recruitment Exam-2024 process which shows their connivance.

During investigation it is revealed that majority shareholding of Silicon Techlab were taken over by PSIL International Limited (Earlier known as Patnaik Steel International Limited) and its directors Mr. Sameer Rath and his wife Saswati Mishra under a purported share purchase agreement dated 5.8.2023 which is under further examination by ED. Investigation revealed that the said agreement was never submitted before Registrar of Companies by either of the two companies.

- The Enforcement Directorate conducted searches at 12 premises in Odisha and West Bengal regarding the leakage of the Odisha SI Recruitment Exam 2024 question paper.
- Investigations reveal unauthorized sub-contracting of exam work by ITI Limited's vendor, Silicon Techlab, to Panchsoft Technologies.
- The scam involved luring candidates with leaked papers for Rs 15-30 lakhs each, with proceeds laundered via shell entities.

Scheme for Registration of Consumer Organizations

One of the important objectives of TRAI is to safeguard Consumer interests and enhance Consumer Education and Awareness. To reach out to the Consumers, TRAI regularly organizes Consumer Outreach Programmes (COPs), Seminars and Workshops etc., with a view to educate the Consumers about various initiatives taken by it to protect Consumers and to elicit their views on import issues. Clearly, it is not possible for TRAI to interact with all Consumers. Consumer Organizations or NGOs can, therefore, play an important role in providing the necessary linkage/interface between the Consumers and the Authority.

TRAI has devised a scheme for Registration of Consumer Organizations/NGOs to partner it in its endeavour to protect Consumer interests. In this regard, TRAI has notified a Regulation "Registration of Consumer Organizations Regulation, 2013" at https://www.trai.gov.in/sites/default/files/2024-09/Regulation_21022013.pdf. The Regulations, inter-alia, outlines the eligibility criteria, procedure and the roles expected from the Consumer Organizations.

Interested non-profit and non-political Organizations can apply for Registration under the scheme. List of No. of existing & Limit of no. of COs may be seen on the next page. Scheme for Registration of Consumer Organizations

One of the important objectives of TRAI is to safeguard Consumer interests and enhance Consumer Education and Awareness. To reach out to the Consumers, TRAI regularly organizes Consumer Outreach Programmes (COPs), Seminars and Workshops etc., with a view to educate the Consumers about various initiatives taken by it to protect Consumers and to elicit their views on import issues. Clearly, it is not possible for TRAI to interact with all Consumers. Consumer Organizations or NGOs can, therefore, play an important role in providing the necessary linkage/interface between the Consumers and the Authority.

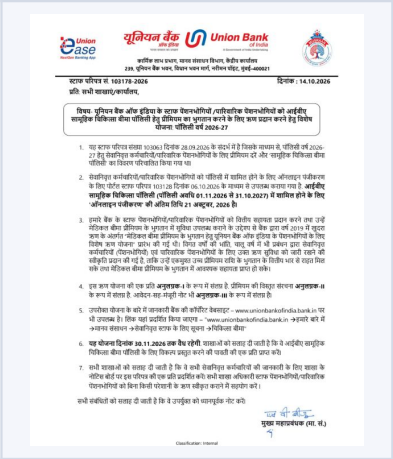

TRAI has devised a scheme for Registration of Consumer Organizations/NGOs to partner it in its endeavour to protect Consumer interests. In this regard, TRAI has notified a Regulation "Registration of Consumer Organizations Regulation, 2013" at https://www.trai.gov.in/sites/default/files/2024-09/Regulation_21022013.pdf. The Regulations, inter-alia, outlines the eligibility criteria, procedure and the roles expected from the Consumer Organizations.

Interested non-profit and non-political Organizations can apply for Registration under the scheme. List of No. of existing & Limit of no. of COs may be seen on the next page. The link for applying for Renewal and New Registration of Consumer Organisations with TRAI can be accessed from URL given below: Server url : https://cogroup.trai.gov.in/login

Last date to apply for Renewal and New Registration of Consumer Organisation with TRAI will be 31st Dec 2026.
